Karen is a partner and is head of litigation and dispute resolution in Guernsey. She specialises in corporate and commercial disputes, with a particular emphasis on banking, finance and trusts litigation and asset tracing and freezing orders. Karen also frequently advises companies, shareholders and directors in relation to corporate insolvency matters and banks on enforcement of security. Karen also advises in relation to regulatory matters, including regulatory investigations. Karen has wide advocacy experience and appears frequently before the Guernsey courts.

Karen's work often involves cross-border and conflicts of law issues. Recent matters in which Karen has acted include:

- advising an international investment bank in relation to alleged mis-selling of investments
- acting for the general partner of a fund in relation to the removal of the fund's investment advisor
- acting for the corporate trustee of a trust in a claim for breach of trust arising out of investments made by the trustees
- acting for a retiring trustee in relation to a dispute concerning the extent of a trustee's right of indemnity against trust assets
- acting for a global telecoms company in locating and securing assets in enforcement of a US$2 billion judgment
- acting for a leading investment bank in obtaining freezing order relief ancillary to extra-jurisdictional proceedings
- acting for a company in a dispute with a shareholder and former director
- acting for the directors of an insolvent multi-million dollar hedge fund in applying for a compulsory winding up order
- acting for a leading high street bank in enforcing its security over the realty of a company to secure repayment of significant outstanding loans
- acting for employees and directors of a regulated entity in connection with a regulatory investigation.

Karen's clients include local trust companies and retail banks, private companies, international investment banks, hedge funds, insurers and accountants. Karen is frequently instructed by leading law firms, both in the UK and elsewhere. She is named in the Citywealth Leaders List 2014 in the Honours List for Contentious Trusts,

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

"Karen is absolutely at the top of her game, and should be on the speed dial of anyone who fears they may become involved in a financial dispute or heavy litigation in Guernsey. She is incredibly smart, incredibly tough, and her knowledge of her areas of expertise is unsurpassed. People want her on their side, and with good reason. She also has excellent soft skills and can handle stressed and difficult clients with a light touch whilst being a devastatingly effective advocate and seeing off opponents. She's the complete package."
